COMMANDERS

Approximately one hundred and seventy members were involved in the Pep Club during the 1979-80 school year. It was the largest group ever at Eisenhower.

During the Homecoming season, the members broke up into committees and worked on various aspects of the dance, such as decorations, tickets, and name-tags.

As the tradition goes, members stayed up all night the day before the MacArthur game. They hung spirit signs on the football players' houses, and met at the Texan Restaurant for breakfast afterwards.

For the first time, the Pep Club helped the American Cancer Society in sponsoring the "Great American Smoke-Out." They signed up over 1,000 volunteers who pledged not to smoke for 24 hours. Eisenhower was the only known school in Michigan which participated.

In late September, the Forum traveled o the Muskegon River for a weekend of :amping, learning, and getting to know :ach other better. Committees were esta-)lished, goals were set, and plans were nade for the new year.

November found the Forum officers n attendance at the fall leadership con- ference, sponsored by the University of Michigan.

Five standing committees made up the heart of the Forum. Current Affairs held idea sessions, discussed fundings, and put on student activities, such as "Spook and Spirit" day and "At the Hop". Monies raised at these activities went toward Forum projects.

Upgrading conditions at Eisenhower was the main purpose of the Betterment Committee. The committee was charged with improvements at the school. Communications, Clubs and Organizations, and Elections were the other active and important committees in the Forum.

Mr. Allan Larsen served as the advisor of the Forum again this year.

White Pine Council advisors find time to enjoy themselves.

Striving toward the completion of some long-sought goals, the White Pine Council met once a month and still managed to become good friends.

Holding meetings at each of the White Pine Schools, the council decided to purchase a flag for each school, depicting its membership in the White Pine Council.

Besides working to better the communication of the six schools, the members also had a Christmas party and a Valentine's party.

The Eisenhower members for the 1979-1980 school year included Patti Mitchell, Chris Kostrzewa, Jill Bruce, Stacy Bird, and Mary Morley. Their advisor was Mr. Russ Spaulding. Each of the members was placed on one of the five standing committees: the President's Committee, Exchanges, Social Interactions, Sportsmanship, and Fund Raising.

Proving that a group of young people can work together and follow Robert's Rules of Order, the White Pine Council attained some of the responsibilities of later life.

Mrs. Sue Schulz and Miss Stephanie Polzin, serving in their fifth consecutive year as Honor Society advisors, formed the club into a viable and energetic affiliation.

Having fewer people in the National Honor Society this year has not stopped the members from being more active than ever.

The organization sold large coloring books and senior mugs and glasses, which enabled them to hold a spring banquet to welcome the upcoming seniors into the society.

Miss Stephanie Polzin and Mrs. Sue Schulz served as advisors for the society. Officers for the 1979-1980 year were: Bobbi Hall, president; Carol Brisbois, vice-president; and Karen Knight, secretary and treasurer.

The Outdoor Club celebrated its ninth year at Eisenhower. Club officers are president, Debbie Cieszlak; vice-president, Patti Brooks; secretary, Lynn Krueger; treasurer, Robert Nagel; and advisor for the group, Mr. Roland Crane.

The purpose of the club was to provide supervised wilderness adventure for the members, and to teach about the environment.

Club activities included cross-country skiing, snowshoeing, camping (winter and summer), canoeing and backpacking. An early winter three-day canoe trip on the AuSable and a midwinter campout at Pigeon River Country State Forrest highlighted the 79-80 season.

Gaining knowledge of France was an accomplishment of the French Club. The club participated in a French dessert and listened and talked with Miss Sue Otto, who had lived in France. The club members were also involved in the International Dinner with all the language clubs. Some members visited France during spring vacation, while others received pen pals from France, and ordered T-shirts with French sayings on them.

The club traveled to Central Michigan University to participate in the Foreign Language Day.

The officers were president; Jean Preston, vice-president; Carol Resseguie, secretary; Kris Beckman, treasurer; Michelle LaClair.

Meeting in the foreign language room every Thursday morning at 7:50, the German Club planned their activities. The officers were president Theresa Reinig, vice-president Bobbi Hall, and secretary-treasurer Julie Beyer, and advisor Mrs. Carol Buller.

Activities undertaken were a hayride, German Christmas caroling at the Community Hospital and Macabee Gardens, a German Dinner at Terri Thompson's house, tobogganing in March, and canoeing in June. Annual activities included the International dinner and a trip to Frankenmuth with a tour of Carling's Brewery and a dinner at the Bavarian Inn.

On December 26, 13 students from the club traveled to Germany. They visited Koln, Heidelberg, Munich, and Lucerne, Switzerland. The group also toured Koln Cathedral, Olympic stadium, and Heidelberg Castle.

Fund raisers for the group were the selling of advent calenders, posters, and German tee-shirts. An annual fund raiser that was served to the student body was Kafee und Kuchen.

What's happening in Spanish Club? The members decided to meet every Friday morning, at 7:45 in the foreign language room.

Officers were nominated, then voted on at the first meeting. President Laura Parker, Vice-President Jodi Cooper, Secretary Joyce York, and Treasurer Klara Verdoni served as the officers.

Spanish tee-shirts were sold to help continue the sponsorship of a child from Mexico named Valencia Alvaneda.

One of the major activities was the annual International Dinner, which was held in February. The Spanish, French, German, and Latin clubs of Eisenhower attended. Food was tasted from all of the cultures represented.

Some of the other activities encountered were a dinner at Casa del Rey, a picnic at Immerman Park, rollerskating, and a Gear's hockey game.

Second year advisor Mrs. Rita Belk was an asset to the club by sharing ideas and planning activities.

Producing two plays was the major project of the 79-80 Drama Club. Headed by president JoEllen Laundra, Kristi Beyer as vice-president, and Joyce York as secretary-treasurer, the Drama Club presented "The Philadelphia Story" and "Barefoot in the Park".

Money was raised through a magazine sale and from the performance of two plays. The club traveled to Pit and Balcony to view the "Taming of the Shrew".

The club consisted of twenty members. Meetings were held at 7:45 on Wednesday mornings in the theater. Serving as the advisor of this year's club was Miss Ruth Anne Sowle.

Under the direction of Miss Ruth Anne Sowle, two spectacular plays were performed this year by many talented Eisenhower students. On November 16 and 17, 1979, and eight member cast presented the play "The Philadelphia Story," by Philip Barry.

Eisenhower's next presentation was the comedy "Barefoot in the Park," by Neil Simon. This play made its debut February 8 and 9, 1980, with a six member cast.

The authenticity of both sets complimented the productions of each play. Many students put long hours into getting the sets and lighting perfect for the opening night.

Arriving at school before most of us get here and staying sometimes as late as eight o'clock were just two of the sacrifices made by this year's staff of Eisenhower photographers. Working in a stuffy 6 x 15 foot darkroom, inhaling chemical vapors and coming through with last minute pictures were commonplace occurences for the photography staff during a day.

In addition to all the extra time they put in at school, the photographers must spend many of their own free hours traveling to and from sporting events and other school related activities to insure an abundance of quality photographs.

Nestled away in a dimly lit corner of the electives circle is a room commonly known as "the room where you get your pictures taken". Officially known as the Publications Department, this is the cheery "home away from home" for the WORD staffers many Thursday nights. Here, Eisenhower's newspaper is written, laid out, and prepared for printing.

The main objective of the WORD staff this year was to sustain itself as a monthly publication. Achievement of this goal was not easy, and at year's end, a total of nine papers had made their way into the hands of Eisenhower students.

The WORD also sponsored their second annual White Pine Journalism Conference. The get together of high school journalists featured as speakers, columnist Betty Hansen, photographer Don Demers, Art Lewis, and many other prominent people from the many different aspects of the journalism field.

Advisor Miss Elizabeth Spaulding and co-editors Lisa Farrell and Karen Knight, along with dilligent staff members, strived to make The WORD a welcome addition to Tuesday mornings.

Jean Preston and Don Demko – Co-editors

A difficult task was at hand to exceed the quality of the 1978-79 Introspectus for co-editors Don Demko and Jean Preston. The added color highlighted this year's book, as did the Life magazine style layout.

A senior-dominated staff used their experience to help strengthen the book. Although tempers roared often a deadline night, the staff held together long enough to produce a late-spring book. Credit must also be given to Carol Brisbois, typist and business manager, for her efforts in coordinating the book, and to Miss Elizabeth Spaulding for advising the chaos.

The 1979-80 edition of Introspectus represents a small portion of the history of your life. As you reflect back through these pages, it is our hope that these memories return and bring a smile to your face.

Marvin enforces strict policy

Principal Mr. Charles Marvin talks to Mr. Hugh Matson about the district basketball games.

The school year of 1979-80 introduced a new scheduling policy, stricter grading forms, and greater concentration on discipline.

Mr. Charles Marvin, principal, also found time to handle supplies of the school, serve as business manager, and take responsibility of discipline problems. The scheduling problems landed on the shoulders of assistant principal Allan Larsen, who also advised the Forum. Mr. Russ Spaulding advised the Pep Club and took care of attendance records. He also formulated plans for graduation and coordinated student activities.

Mr. Charles Marvin, Mr. Allan Larsen, and Mr. Russ Spaulding combined their administrative efforts to keep the integral parts of the school system operating.

Science research rewardin

Planting one hundred trees and increasing their knowledge of agricultural landscape design were just two of the many facets of the science department. With the added use of experimental methods and materials in the labs, the students gained a wider understanding of scientific procedures and concepts.

Students enrolled in science classes were taught a wide variety of subjects from the basics of biology to mind bending problems of chemistry and physics. With the help of the science teachers and interested students, science has become a major part of Eisenhower's education system.

Sharply outlined graphics combined with accurately delinated imaginative ideas helped win three gold key awards for students in this year's National Scholastic Art Contest. The three students were Matt VanderBorgh, Kurt Falk, and Tammy Thompson, whose works were exhibited at the Hampton Square Mall earlier this year.

Painting, design, pottery, and individual art hours stimulated the participating students. Besides classroom assignments, the students acted in extra-curricular activities, such as painting the windows at Christmas for a local McDonalds.

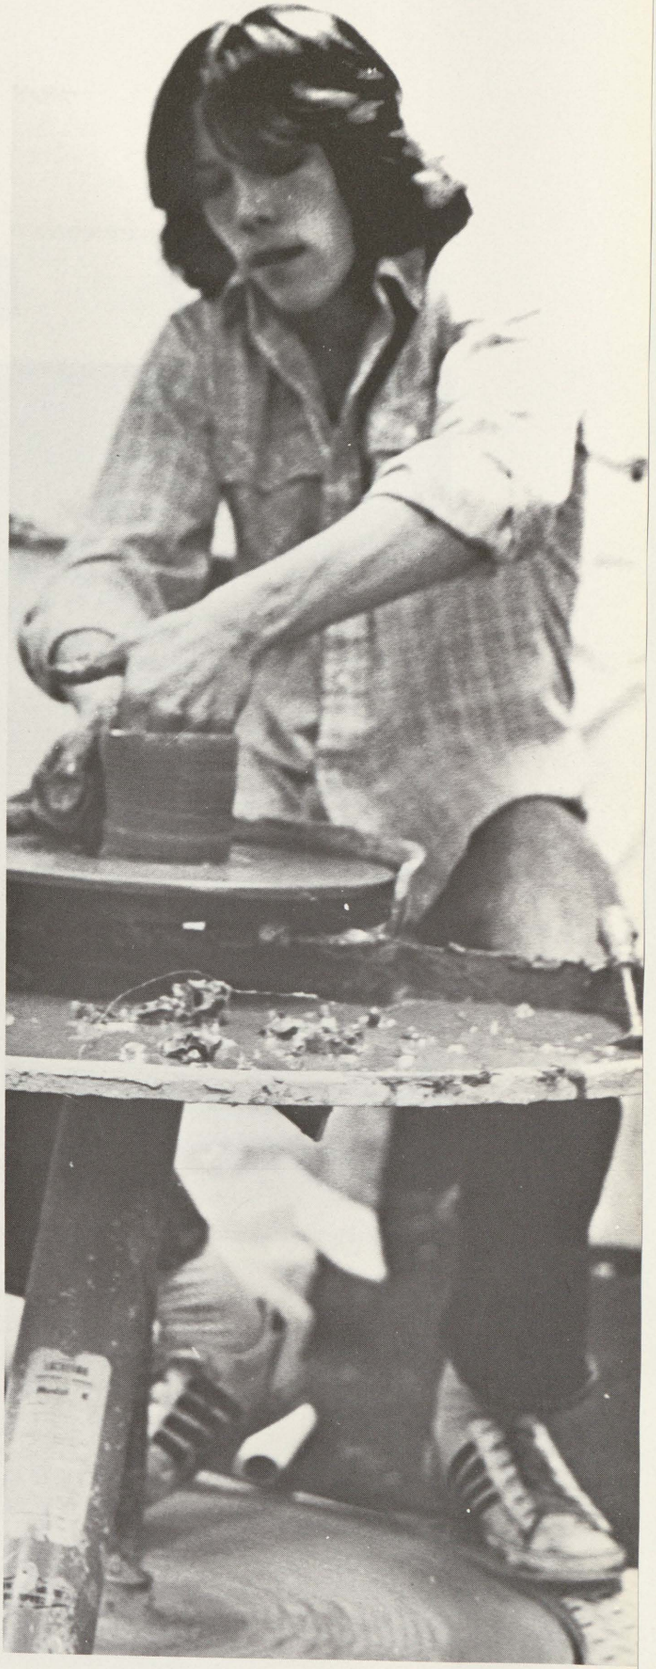
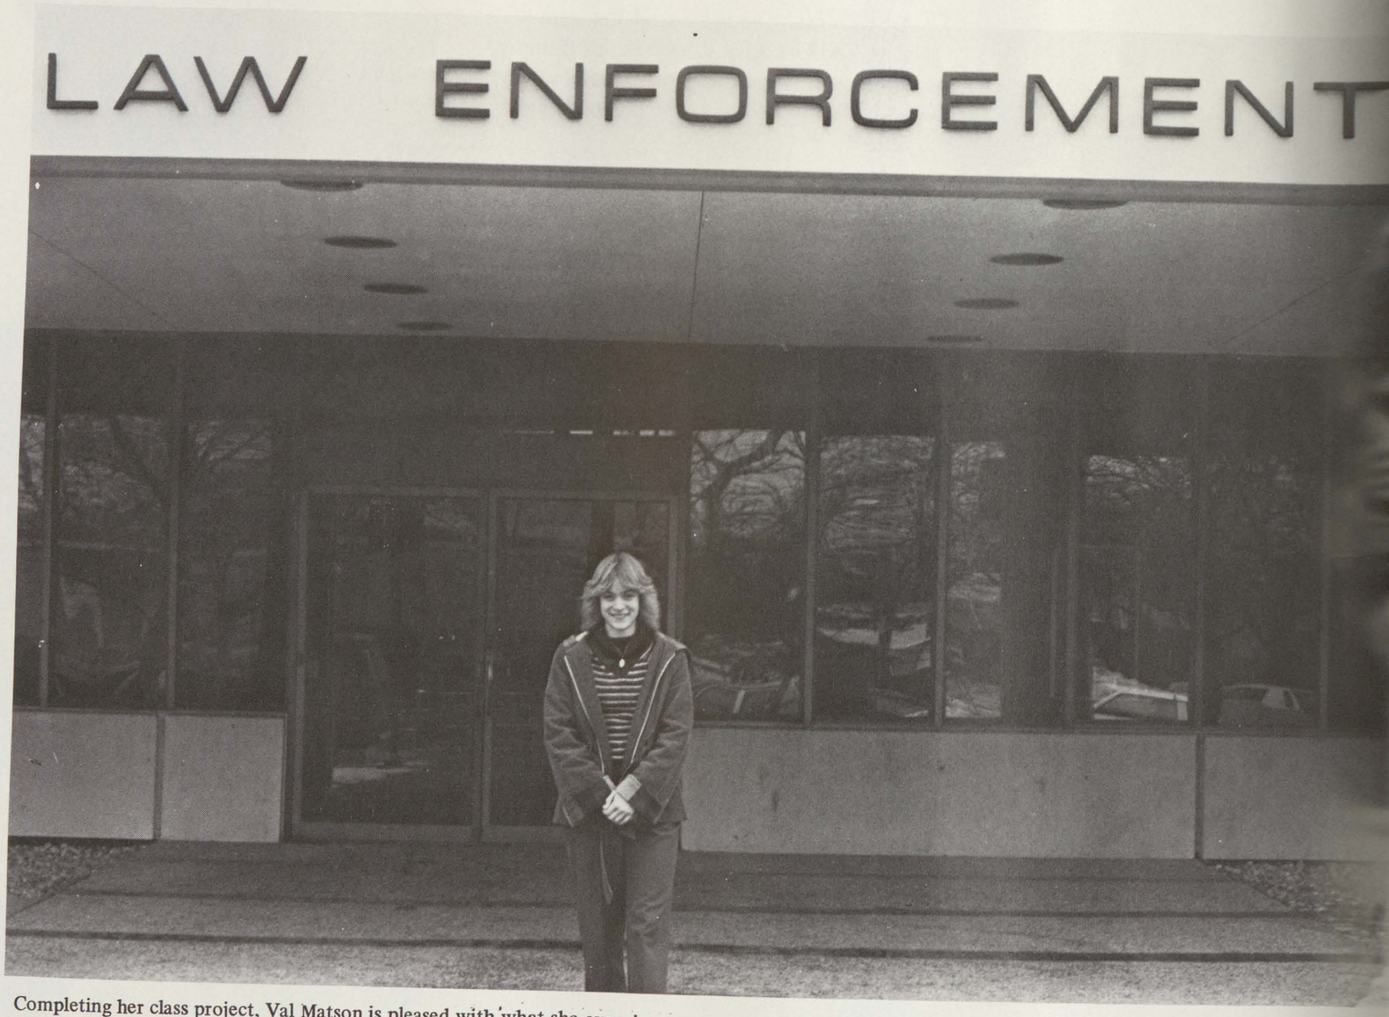
Art participation grows



While operating the pottery wheel, Dan Engel forms his clay project.

History set in motion



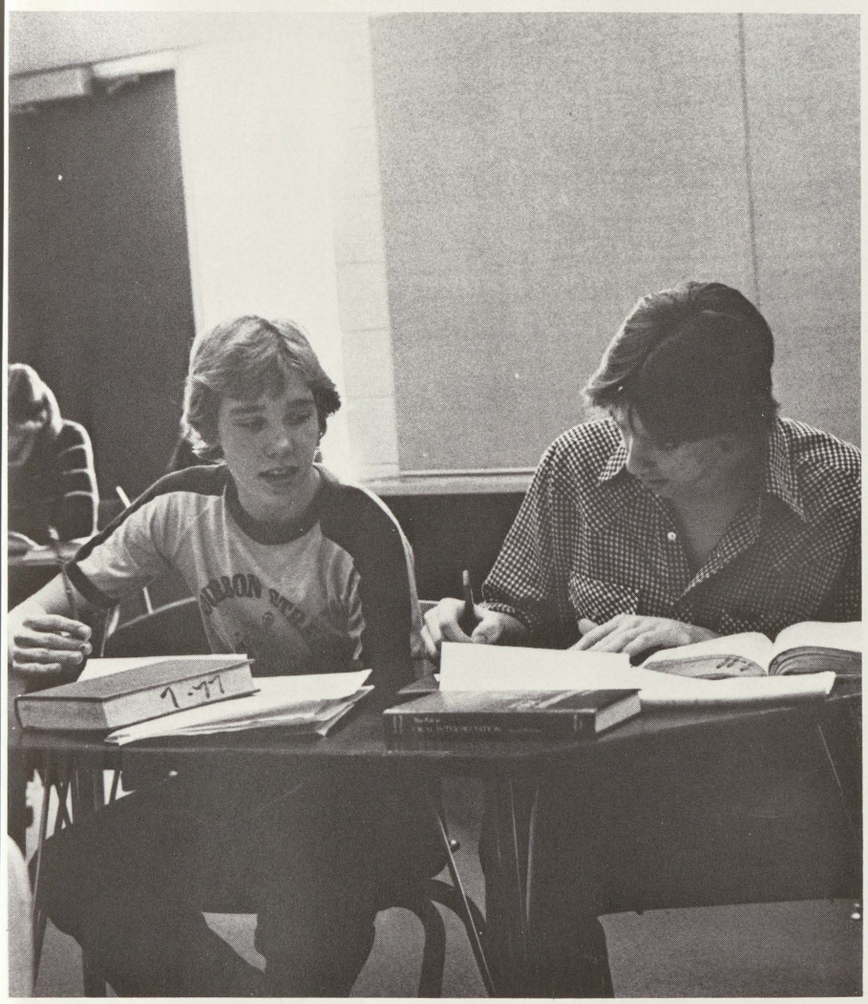
Completing her class project, Val Matson is pleased with what she experienced.

History class had its second annual Jackson vs. Adams campaign for President in which students took part in making new ideas, such as newspapers, Jackson period timelines, posters, and different campaign tactics.

Mr. Bope Winieckie made his mark in government this year by being elected to the City Council.

Steve Smith, director of news from WSGW radio station, talked to the 1st hour government class on how a radio helps to inform people on candidates, and helps the candidate running for office reach the people to express their new ideas and viewpoints on issues.

Mrs. Jeanine Oberschmidt's government classes had to choose from a wide variety of projects to do for her class, which included taking a trip to either the Saginaw Township School Board meeting or a Saginaw Township Board meeting. This gave the classes a chance to look at government in the community and how it works and differs from state government.



Steve Anderson confers with Jim Kruska in Algebra II.

Using the new computers in the math area was just one of the many extras offered in the 1979-1980 school year.

Some students decided to take more math classes than they needed. As only one half credit was all any student was required to have to be graduated from Eisenhower High, the increased numbers of students who continued their math education to their Senior year was a testimonial to the excellence of the math division.

Math multiplies in attendance

Baffled by a mistake, Mr. Slosser and Terry Kehr look over computer results.

Hopping for fun and purpose

Ready to do a cheer as 1950 Eisenhower cheerleaders are Doug Colbath, John Singer, and Kevin Dalton.

Participating in the dance marathon was the main money raiser for this year's event, "At the Hop", formerly known as 50's Day. The Forum decided to give the day a new name to make it sound a little different and to possibly get more people involved.

Students who wished to dance in the marathon were asked to pay 50 cents and others who wanted to watch paid 10 cents. By doing this, the nickles and dimes added up to dollars to go towards a school flag.

But dancing wasn't the only way studnets got involved. By dressing in a poddle skirt and saddle shoes or just blue jeans and a white T-shirt you showed involvement.

Various awards were given at an assembly held sixth hour. Those who had the fullest skirt, the bobbiest ponytail, the reddest lips, the best cheerleader, or best jock were all given a prize. The total amount of money that was raised was announced at the assembly. A total of $67 was collected for a school flag.

Stacy Bird takes time out to slow dance with Jay Phillion.

Lisa Mallot kicks up her leg for a special dance.

Tension builds as Pete Ristau and Brad Chaklos sink their teeth into the apples while trying to beat the juniors.

Spooks and Spirits come alive

Looking on at the activities in the gym, Julie Ostrander and Gretchen Gallagher mirror amusement.

As a flasher, Dave Watz "shows it all" after winning an award for the most original costume.

Like our yesterdays, things always have a way of changing. This year Goblin's Day was changed to "Spook and Spirit Day" and consisted of people dressing up, collecting money for UNICEF, and an assembly during the first half of 6th hour.

The assembly started out with a parade and awarding of prizes to thos that dressed up. A teacher Simon Says, a pantomime of Alice Cooper, and an Apple Bobbing contest were only a few of the activities that day.

Winners ranged from M & M's to a flasher. The winners of the Apple Bobbing contest were the juniors and the sophomores. E. participant received a package of Wrapples.

Amy Williams topped everyone this year by collecting $30. A total of $203 was collected this year.

Concentrating intensely, Laurie Lazzaro plays her piccolo.

Lisa Farrell puts her heart into playing the bassoon.

Keeping the band on beat is drummer Dave Wojewoda.

Band recruits members

Under the direction of Mr. Mike Vierow, the band opened the season on the right foot by increasing its size from 45 to 60 members.

A few performances highlighting the year were the Court Street Art Festival, the Saginaw County Christmas Parade, and district festivals.

The band also contributed to the school's spirit by performing at pep assemblies, home basketball and football games.

A little smile makes the day go faster, replies Brian Williams.

Some pictures don't need any words .....

Victories and disappointments highlight the year

1979-1980

Shah of Iran toppled
Three Mile Island nuclear accident
DC-10 crashed in Chicago
Pope John Paul II visited America
Double-digit inflation continued
Gasoline prices reached triple digits
U.S. Embassy seized in Iran
U.S. Hockey team receives Olympic gold
Eric Heiden captures five Olympic golds in speed skating
Draft registration considered for women as well as men
Russia invaded Afghanistan

Aftermath of a tragedy – 11 people were killed at a Who concert on December 3, 1979. This began a series of legislation to outlaw "festival seating."

Earlier this year, bankruptcy forced Chrysler to turn to government aid.

The boughs of the White House Christmas tree remain dark while only the star shines for hope toward the release of the American hostages held in the U.S. Embassy in Iran.

Freshman council members were busy throughout the school year. The class sponsors were Mr. Dick Rummler and Mr. Rick Decker. To raise funds for their many activities, the council sold amazing Swipe cleaner for dirty carpets and bright light bulbs.

The freshman class bundled up and went tobagganing down the snowy hills in Midland. Then they went riding on an exciting sleigh ride through glistening trees of the winter wonderland. After the snow melted, their was a picnic for the class of '83. To end the year, the big event was riding fast moving roller coasters at Cedar Point.

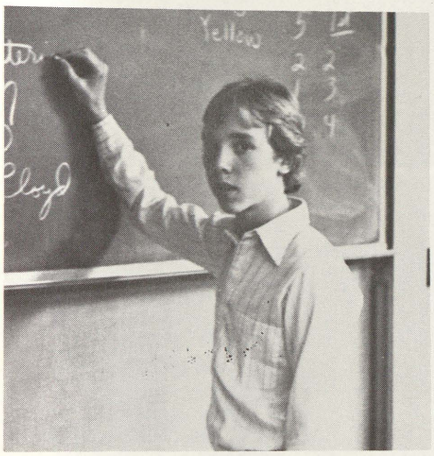
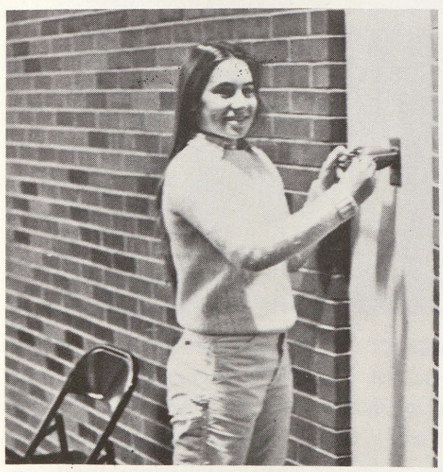
Council stresses involvement



President – Steve Anderson

Vice-President – Jim LeBlanc



Treasurer – Mary Morley

Promoting involvement within the Sophomore Class was a major goal for this year's council. Their attempts at planning a hayride, and a ski trip proved successful.

Presiding over the expanded council were President Steve Anderson, Vice-President Jim LeBlanc, Treasurer Mary Morley, and Secretary Kris Beckman. Their efforts, and those of the council, helped bring the Class of 1982 closer together.

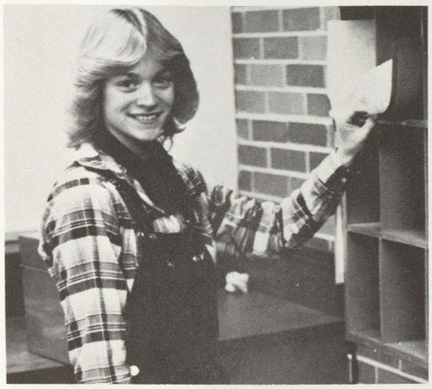
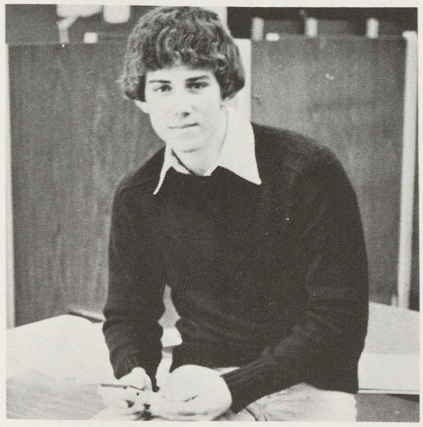
Juniors wrap up year with prom



President – Val Matson



Vice-President – Bruce Hill

Treasurer – Lynnette Rasalan

Secretary – Anne Morley

At 7:45 every Wednesday morning, the Junior Class Council met in the gold area. Plans for the class were made and voted on at this time.

Voted in officers were President Val Matson, Vice-President Bruce Hill, Secretary Anne Morley, and Treasurer Lynnette Rasalan. The class council was made up of 23 members, most of whom were voted in by the Junior Class or chosen by the officers.

On December 11, the first White Pine Class Council Exchange was held at MacArthur. Four representatives from the Junior class attended; they were Bruce HIll, Anne Morley, Jill Bruce, and Stacy Bird. Mr. Douglas Doane spoke about how to get everyone involved and how to organize a better class council.

Plans were made for a ski trip, sleigh ride and a Cedar Point trip. The major responsibility of the Junior Class Council was preparing for the Junior-Senior Prom, which was held in May.

Determination builds Senior Council

Emphasizing this year's Senior Class Council activities, were the enthusiasm and determination of its members. The members were pleased with the money making idea of family portraits by a professional photographer, raising approximately $600. The proceeds from this venture went toward the senior gift and senior party.

Additional activities were the decorating of the red area for Homecoming and a hayride at Rhodes in Bridgeport. Ceyx provided the music at the Senior party, which was held at Ted's Banquet Hall.

TITION

Teamwork and effort stun D.M.

Although the Commanders failed to have their best season, they accomplished one of the biggest upsets in Commander history by defeating the number two ranked team in the state, Douglas MacArthur. The Commanders also recorded wins over Midland Dow, Mt. Pleasant, and Buena Vista.

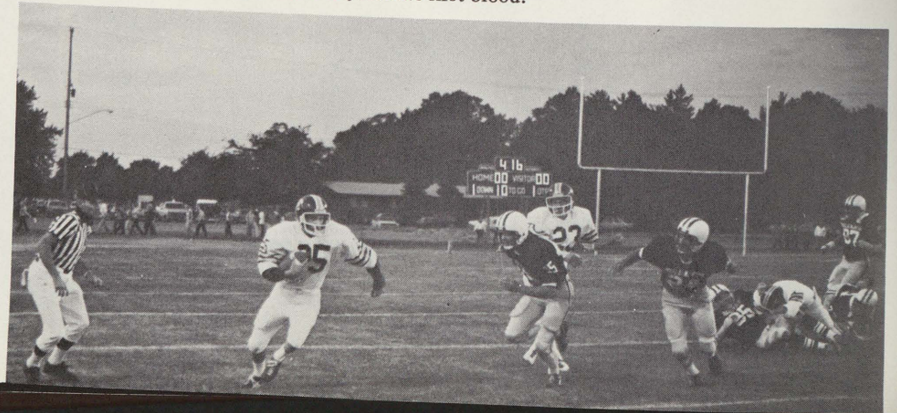
Led by Coach Lew Fenton, the team exhibited many outstanding players during the season. Junior Brian Krys rushed for 905 yards and made first team in All-Area and also placed on the All-County team. Senior Pete Ristau, defensive lineman, proved indomitable with 86 tackles on the year, and also making first team All-Area.

Quarterback Bruce Nordin led a successful passing attack by completing 32 passes at a total of 465 yards passing to leading receivers Kurt Koella, Brian Krys, Brad Chaklos, Scott Reetz, and Steve Kruska.

Many of the players were distinguished at the end of the season for their own personal accomplishments. First year Commander player Chris Sakowski was elected Most Improved Player. Most Valuable Back was Brian Krys, and Most Valuable Lineman was Pete Ristau. The Coaches' Award went to senior Tom LeBlanc.

DM's scoreboard reveals Commander's victory.

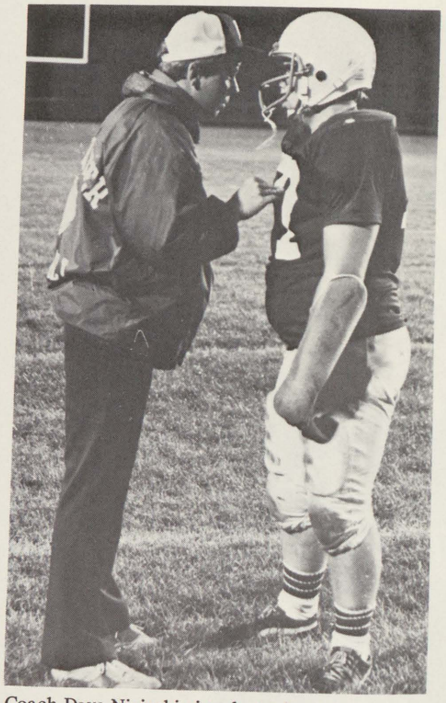
Scampering for the endzone, Brian Krys draws first blood.



Defensive back Mike Lutz puts the Oiler rusher to a halt.

Separating the men from the boys, Bill Byas runs over the Oiler's defensive line.

Mr. & Mrs. Dale Reetz step out on the field to be honored on parents' night.



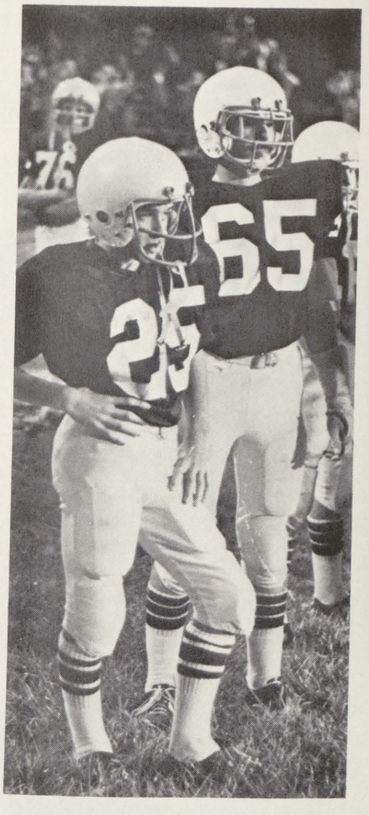
Coach Dave Nizinski gives last minute instructions to Dean Barber.

The kick-off team is in position in the split second before the start of the game.

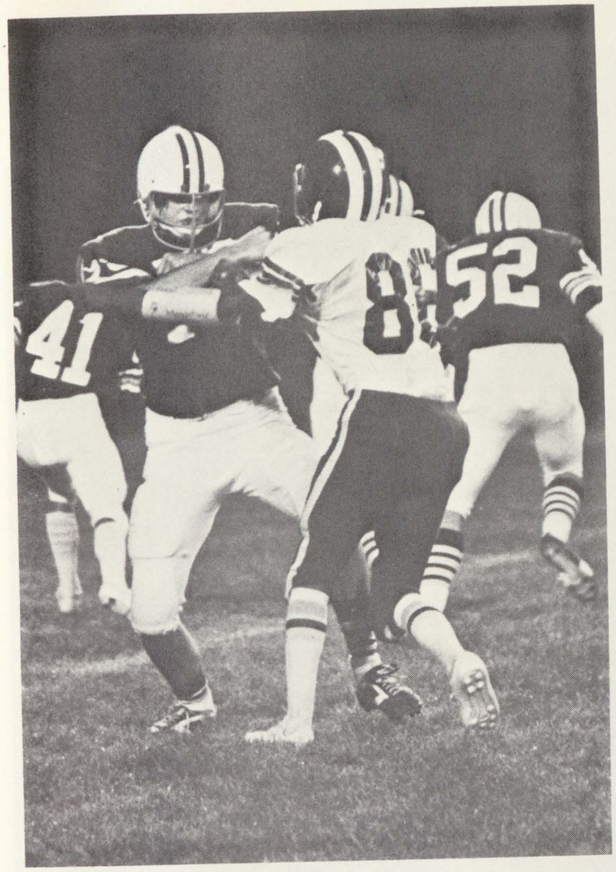
Freshmen earn respect

Under the direction of head coach Hugh Matson and Dave Nizinski, assistant coach, the Freshman Football Team broke open the season by winning their first two games. The remainder of the season proved less successful scorewise, but the enthusiasm never died down. The season ended with a 2-6 record.

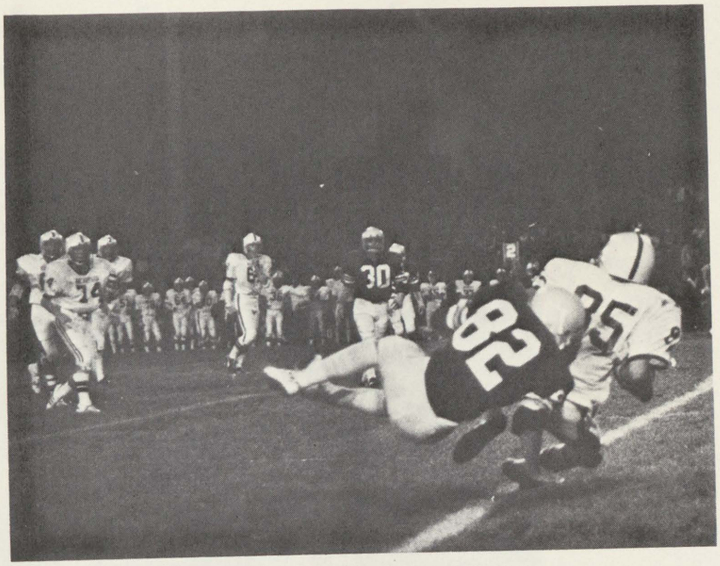
Running the ball back for a touchdown is Bill Finger.



Watching the action are Matt Kartz and Bob Gubbins.



Defending his team against Midland Dow is Craig Hilbrandt.



John Kelly smashes a MacArthur opponent to the ground.

After winning three of their first four games the J.V. Football Team ended their season with a disappointing 3-5 record. Coach Joe Mikolajczak, former Varsity coach, took over leadership, assisted by Al Taylor ('74) and Mike LeBlanc ('75), former Commanders.

Paving the way in both rushing and scoring was Frank Reed with 638 yards rushing and 36 points to his credit. Jim Paquin followed with 100 tackles.

JV continue tradition ; trounce D.M.

Cross Country is basically long distance running over a specified course. This course may include streams, hills, and other types of terrain. Eisenhower's home-course is located at Immerman Park.

Practices for the members involve 1 - 4 miles of warming up running, a workout of approximately 6 miles, then a warming-down of 1 - 4 miles.

The 1979 season was a successful one for Coach Al VonDrasek and a young Commander team, as they captured the White Pine Conference championship, placed 5th of 12 teams in county competition and 7th of 23 teams in regional competition. The team's record for the dual meets was 3 - 3.

The msot valuable runner for Eisenhower this season was senior John Singer. He was the White Pine Conference individual champ and was a state-qualifier for the 3rd time of his four years at Ike.

Girls' efforts pay off

Seven wins and four losses proved that the 1979 Girls Swim Team efforts paid off this season.

The girls also took 3rd in both the tri-city and area championships.

There were nine girls who went to the state meet. They were Sandy Birkelbach, Kerri Clark, Alison Frenzel, Kris Kanitz, Amy Minard, Laura Mueller, Michelle Shaw, Crystal Lake, and Nancy Gilbert.

Nancy Gilbert made the biggest splash this year. Only in her second year, she has become one of the state's top divers. Along with her outstanding team record, Nancy placed first in both the tri-city and area championships. She also competed in the Detroit News Invititional Meet.

Topping off the year was the shattering of the 200 medley relay record by Minard, Frenzel, Birkelbach, and Clark.

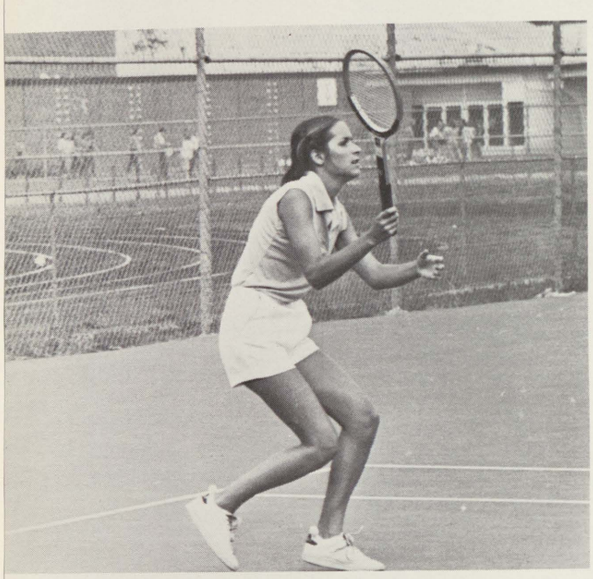
Skill carries team to state



Sally Swartzendruber prepares to shift for the return of the serve.

Swinging their way to a successful season, the Girls Varsity Tennis Team took the WPC Championship for the fourth consecutive year. Their overall season record consisted of 11 wins and 3 losses.

Freshman Ruth Hare led the team at the WPC tournament by winning her flight at number three singles while junior Karen Michalski and freshman Caroline Bermudez also contributed by winning their flight at number three doubles. A WPC team was selected after the tournament and Eisenhower had four girls chosen. All-Conference first team members wer Jackie Kenny, Carol Molesky, and Carol Baldwin. Jennifer Reinke was selected for Honorable Mention.

At the regional freshman Ruth Hare won number three singles and Karen Michalski and Caroline Bermudez won number three doubles to repeat their performance. The team experienced excitement when they captured the first place title, which no Eisenhower girls tennis team had ever accomplished since the first tennis season of 1972. This finish qualified them for the state meet.

The state meet proved to be another highlight for the girls. Jackie Kenny, Carol Baldwin, Jennifer Reinke, Karen Michalski, and Caroline Bermudez each scored at the state meet. The team finished tenth in the state, the highest any Ike team has gone.

The annual banquet was held on November 1, 1979 at the Royal Palm Restaurant. Sally Swartzendruber was given the most improved player award, and Carol Baldwin and Jennifer Reinke were each co-winners of the most valuable player award. Carol and Jennifer were the first players of any Eisenhower girls tennis team to go undefeated at their flight in season dual meets.

Experienced team has strong season

Experience helped the J.V. Tennis Team through many tough matches this year. The Ike netters were victorious against Douglas MacArthur and in both matches against Midland Central. The girls finished the season with a record of 3 wins and 6 losses.

Junior Jill Becker was presented with the most improved player award, and Junior Donna Carey was presented with the most valuable player award. These honors were given out by Coach Bill Stocker at the annual banquet, held at the Royal Palm Restaurant on November 1, 1979.

After the drive to the eighth hole, Steve O'Farrell shows his style.

Showing an impressive 11-2 season, the Varsity Golfers placed second in the White Pine Conference. Lead by most valuable player Craig Barber, who earned second team all-conference, along with Jay Phillion, the team showed their diversity to place sixth in the state.

Coach Jim Benjamin voted Ray Shemanski most improved player, and most dependable, Steve O'Farrell. Coach Benjamin was proud of the five seniors, as they took 1st in the Alma Invitational, second in the Class B Regionals, and third in the Oscoda Invitational.

At Maple Hill, Jay Phillion gives it all he's got to make it to all-conference with his orthodox swing.

Two wins over Douglas MacArthur highlighted Ike's J.V. Golf Team, which ended the season 2-9, although there were many close matches.

The J.V. Linksters were coached by Mr. Kim Kolbe. Coach Kolbe was still impressed with how consistent his team was, thanks to freshman Brad Phillion who eventually moved up to varsity, sophomore Ken Shemanski also helped out, along with Craig Westwood, Jeff Roof, and Tim Ohmer.

Bringing their record down to 12 wins and 11 losses, the Girls Varsity Basketball Team demonstrated their winning tradition by finishing over .500 for the season.

Coach Terry Boswell was pleased with his team's individual records, as Most Valuable Player, Sharon Sanders, made first team all-conference and Mary Gnatkowski made second team all-conference. Honorable mention went to senior Sue Carpenter.

Inexperience was a great disadvantage to this year's Girls Junior Varsity Basketball Team. They had a record of 6 wins and 14 losses. Their White Pine record stood at 4 wins and 6 losses. Serving as their coach was Mr. Jim Noble.

Their leading scorers were Jodi McDonald and Cindy Graham. Mary Klonowski and Cindy Graham moved up to the Varsity squad to support the team during Districts.

During the summer months the J.V. and Varsity Cheerleaders put their efforts toward raising money for summer camp. They accomplished their goal of earning approximately $5000, which was enough money to rent a motor home and a van to transport the girls to Auburn, Alabama.

The squads attended an ICF (International Cheerleading Foundation) camp, which took place July 30 – August 3, and publicized as the largest in the nation.

Despite injuries, both squads continued to strive for a victory through competition. The J.V. squad received ribbons for cheer execution, most improved, best stunt and pyramid, sparkle and shine, and a third place in final competition. The Varsity squad received one award for best stunt and pyramid and one blue ribbon which is an award of excellence counting in all eight categories of competition. They also entered grand champpionship and placed 3rd overall. Together both squads received two spirit awards and the congeniality award, which was voted on by the entire camp. Lori Gontko, Lynnette Rasalan, and Tammy Detloff each received individual awards of excellence.

Due to squad injuries, Carrie Harding was chosen to be a substitute for the Varsity squad during the basketball season.

There was a change this year with Freshman Cheerleading; twelve girls were chosen and divided into two squads of six. This was done to ease the responsibility of cheerleading to one game a week.

Something new, added to the pom-pon squad brightened halftime activities and assemblies. New uniforms and brighter eye catching pom-pons enhanced the girls' routines.

In August of 1979, the squad traveled to Grand Rapids, Michigan for summer camp. They competed with 21 squads and carried home with them a third place trophy, 5 first place ribbons, 2 second place ribbons, and, for their originality routine, a fourth place trophy. They also received a new award, the "atta squad" trophy, which was given to the best behaved and best prepared squad.

Serving as advisor of the three squads this year was Miss Anne Bovee, a 1977 graduate of Eisenhower, and four year veteran of Ike's pom-pon squad.

Establishing the record of 6-4 in the White Pine Conference, the Commanders placed 2nd in a three-way tie with Bridgeport and Mt. Pleasant. Ike's overall record was 13-7, which rated them 5th in the area in the Class B division.

Tony Jessop lead the team in scoring with an average of 11.9 points per game, followed by Troy Davis with 11.4, and Scott Munroe with 11.2.

One of Eisenhower's triumphs over number-one competitor, Douglas MacArthur, proved the Commanders had comeback power. By winning in double overtime, 70-66, Eisenhower established themselves in second place for the White Pine Conference.

After defeating Essexville-Garber, in their first district tournament game, the Commanders went on to diminish Buena Vista in a thrilling championship upset, with a score of 58-48. Receiving the District Championship trophy was a first in Commander history.

Finishing with a record of 4-14 overall and 3-7 in the White Pine Conference, the Freshman "A" Basketball Team had a rough season. Mr. Jim Noble served once again as the coach for the team.

Jim Alles and Mike Parker were recognized for their ability at different times during the season.

Coaching basketball for the first time at Eisenhower, Mr. Lou Fenton's Freshman "B" Team had a record of 11-0. The team had very close overtime wins and losses. They were pleased to beat MacArthur both times that they played them.

Leading the team in scoring was Brian Trybowski, and the team improved throughout the season.

Lack of snow did not stop the boys' Varsity Ski Team from posting its best record in it's history. Their 6 wins and 2 losses were good for a 3rd place finish in the nine team division, and earned them an invitation to the Detroit News meet.

Led by seniors Tim Dye, Pete Ristau, Steve White, and Scott Donaghy, the team finished a respectable 7th place at the regional meet. Dye won the regional slalom championship earning the right to go to the prestigious state meet. Sophomore Add Cummings and junior Tim Fickes took 11th and 12th places respectively. Fickes was voted most valuable skier.

The girls' varsity team raced to a 6th place in the division. Seniors Tracy Laubach, Patti Mitchell, and Patti Gagnon helped lead a fairly young team to a strong finish at the regional meet. Freshman Delynn McLaughlin, sophomore Carol Gagnon, and junior Brenda McGillis led a determined group.

Holding all practices at Bintz's and meets at Mt. Holly paved the way for a promising 1980-81 season. Mr. Dick Williams was head coach for the varsity team, and Mr. Don Miotto was coach for the J.V. ski team.

This year's 1979-80 swim team came on strong as they coasted to a 6-6 win-loss record, compared to last season when they were 0-11 for the season.

The team was again dominated by the upperclassmen, but was helped greatly by a strong freshman and sophomore turn-out. The team also had two divers, Kyle Cardinal and Andy Kreager, who also showed considerable effort.

There were five state meet qualifiers: Don Barton in the 200 Medley Relay and 100 yard Backstroke (1.01.0), Ken Jones in the Medley Relay, Bruce Hill in the 500 Freestyle (5.12.0) and seniors John Wilde in the Medley Relay and 200 Freestyle (1.53.9) and Dave Woods in the Medley Relay.

Enthusiasm motivates hockey team

The hockey team had more spirit than talent this season as they finished the season with a 4-10-0 record. The Commanders just couldn't overcome the third period jinx which seemed to frustrate the Commanders all season. Coach Dave Michelson and Assistant Coach Ron Wisniewski said their team just seemed to run out of gas in the third period, if they didn't, some kind of fluke goal would just slip past Junior Netminder, Matt Gembarowski. Coach Dave Michelson said Matt wasn't the only one to blame as the defense seemed to also let down in the later part of the third period.

The Commanders had many close games, but the big letdown came against cross-town rival Douglas MacArthur as the third period proved to be the real jinx it had been all year.

The team's problems were doubled by a smaller than usual team.

Trying to spark the team, Coach Dave Michelson and Assistant Coach Ron Wisniewski talk strategy.

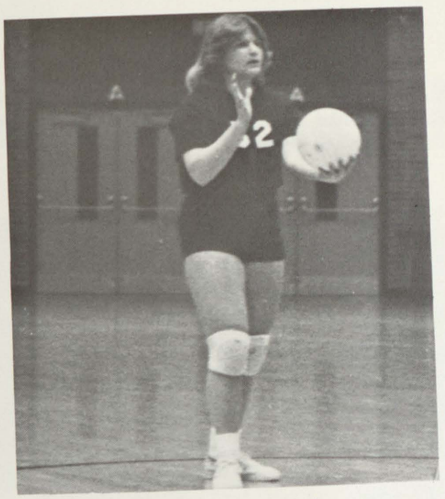
Preparation vital for success



Preparing to serve is Karen Moskal.

Conditioning themselves before the season started was the first step the Varsity Volleyball Team took toward a successful season. The team qualified for the state finals the year before and were striding toward winning the state crown this year. The girls traveled to the Battle Creek Tournament in January where they gave an excellent performance of 5-1, but fell to the team which they lost the state finals to in 1979. The trip helped each girl on the team to earn valuable experience for the rest of their season.

Finishing their season with a 16-1 record and placing first in the White Pine Conference, coach Marilyn Black said she was very happy with her team's performance. On March 1, 1980, the team traveled to Birch Run to compete for the district championship. The girls placed first by defeating Montrose, Douglas MacArthur, and Frankenmuth in the finals. This victory enabled the team to travel to Ovid-Elsie on March 8, where they placed 1st by defeating Oscoda and Okemos. This enabled them to travel to Mt. Clements for the state championship. Recognized as the year's team captain was Carol Baldwin.

Ending the season with a 10-7 record, the J.V. Volleyball Team consisted of seven returning sophomores and six new members. Returning coach Loreen Laracey taught the girls that "practice makes perfect". Improved skills led the team to wins over John Glenn, Douglas MacArthur, Mount Pleasant, Saginaw High, Buena Vista, Alma, and SS. Peter & Paul. Kristi Endsley was chosen to represent the J.V. girls as their team captain.

Soccer team gains experience

Tough competition was experienced in this year's soccer team, who had a 3-6-3 record under the coaching of Mr. Bill Hartle.

Among the team's opponents were MacArthur, Gradn Blanc, and Valley Lutheran. This year the soccer team won over MacArthur with a 1-0 score and lost with a 2-6 score.

Elected by the team, for the best all around performance, Tom Bourcier received the sportsmanship trophy. The trophy will be kept in the school's trophy case. Recognized as this year's most improved players were Deepak Gupta and Matt Galinski.

Deliberation, contested on a high level of excellence, was the focal point of this year's debate team.

The Saginaw Bay Final results proved that the successful team had many talented people to contribute to the team's record.

The first year members on the Novice team placed second, 6-4 overall. Individual speaker awards were given to Sheila Krawczyk, who placed 7th; Deedee Birnbaum, who placed 9th; and Bernie Ezakovich, who placed 10th.

Junior Varsity came in third place 4-6 overall. Paul Albers won a speaker award for 6th place, Craig Nester for 7th place, and Laura Vargas for taking 10th place.

The Varsity team, consisting of experienced members, placed third, 4-6 overall. Karen Tindell won a speaker award for placing 9th, and Craig Dork received an award for 10th place.

Third Row: Paul Albers, Sharon Sargent, Karen Tindell. Fourth Row: Mark Bocker, Kelly Streeter, Jim Metropoulos, Bruce Fowler, Chris Kostrzewa, Kristi Endsley.

New talents were exposed as the 79-80 forensics season opened. The team traveled from city to city to compete in tournaments with other schools. Each individual competed in various events, such as storytelling, oratory, humorous, duo, informative, extemporaneous, impromptu, serious, and radio news.

It took an abundance of patience and practice to display the talent that was shown. The team was successful at a tournament in Gaylord, taking home many trophies, including the 1st place sweepstakes trophy overall.

Directed by coach Cindy Bomboske, the class met every day second hour to practice. Together, the team won many trophies and had a very successful season.

Practice. That was the key word for the Readers' Theater troupe this year. A great deal of patience and diligence was displayed by all involved. There were two multiple readings this year. A remake of an old one, "Stepford Wives" and a brand new "Kramer vs. Kramer". Both were equally successful in competition.

The highlight of the season was Readers' Theater Night, where the two groups and members of the forensics team performed for their parents and friends.

Coached by Cindy Bomboske, the group met every day third hour and had many outside practices. They traveled with the Forensics team to various cities to compete in invitational tournaments.

Love,
Michele

Gib: Let's go to the library and check out the "Foxes", Craig. MAS

Tammy:
You is such a good kid!
Thanks!
Scummy

Oscar and Felix: Good luck. Gumbie

Lisa:
Thanks for everything!
Michele

Mart:
Gone grocery shopping lately?
Bona

Dorny:
How about a round Cass? lunch hour, the mall, new neighborhoods.
Lorny (Class Jr.)

Mary:
I really hope that I still have my special friend, and if you need someone to talk to, you have my number . . .
I.M. Sorry

Uno:
Let's go to the "tops" of the mountains.
Mart

Al, I want to be a Noel's Man.

Tweety:
Someday someone will play your game.
Gumbie

Don:
It was your dedication that made this book what it is. Thanks. It was your ambition that rubbed off on me. Thanks for making me smile, especially when I didn't want to. I needed that.
Best of luck always,
Carol

RAK:
Only one year to go! Thank-you for being there!
Dee

P.S. P.S. P.S.

V.W.:
Always remember the Y.M.C.A. lockerroom and the things you grab to hide.
Bona

To Scummy, Scuzzy, Crispy, Dummy, Boo-Boo, Reefer, Sneak, and Slimey:
This has been one of the strangest years we've encountered. There was a little destruction at the parties. Fighting over whether to play KISS, LED ZEPPLIN, B.O.C., AC/DC, PAT BENATAR, or (haha) JOE JACKSON was fun. We really should ask people if they want their houses put up for sale, too. Hopefully nobody will forget the lunch table conversations and, above all, don't forget the home construction teacher, Mr. Zimmerman. One more thing about the parties. The next time there is one, Dummy, you better talk a little more or someone might think you're in a coma. That's about all except for three words. . . ROCK- N- ROLL!!!!
Keep in touch,
UGLY

Beckley:
Don't forget all the awesome times we've had together this year. Watch out for planes, snow plows, and school buses.
S'um B.D.
Love, Moho P.S. Remember Corkey's

J.C. and V.W.: The Bushes will never be the same in Cadillac! Love, N.G.

Attention Fellow "Herbettes": P.B., L.S., K.B., M.M., P.G.:
Thanks for all the good and bad times, the laughs, tears, the highs and lows. But mostly, thanks for being friends. We've more in store for us over these next years. So let's grab the "Herbs", and G.O.S.H.B.
Love,
L.L.

Microscratch:
Don't look back, the mad taper, the good doctor, the grave digger, and the Disco Chief will give you reasons to be paranoid. We introduced you to El-Marko make-up, half-can binges, locker grams, and your darkroom exile. Bang! Bang!
Introspectus Instigators

Animal,
We had the past, now we have the present, and the future isn't far off. If the past is to show us what the future is to be like, it's going to be a riot. Thanks for making this year the best. I love ay a lot.
Goofy
P.S. I still have your deed, do you still have mine?

Beep-Beep: Think of all the crazy things: squirt guns, rusty nails, Fritos, 442, Muffler, mittens. Thanks. Mono-mono

Tim,
You've made my Senior Year the best year of my life–so far! You'll always be my Popeye and maybe someday your worm will throw-up!
Love-n-Stuff,
Tam

LJS: It's been fun. I'll never forget government. I won't forget anything! Love, CVLipp

Joe,
You're my best buddy and our talks are greatly enjoyed when conflicting paradoxs rise within me.
Luv always,
Lil' Tam

Chris, Julie, Lori, Mary, Patti:
Memories of cheerleading will never be forgotten!
Thanks,
Michele

Merry: Love, Big Sis

Mr. Miller: Remember witty, eh! eh! eh!, sailing, and those Southern Boup. This could be fun! Thanks, Little King

Gil:
Have you seen Don Buddy lately?
Booboo

To the Tireds:
I really don't know how to thank all of you for being my friends. You really are the greatest and I'll never forget you or what you've done for me. Rock-n-Roll!!!!!
I Love You All,
Tam

Bona:
Always remember it's not the quantity, it's the quality.
Booboo

Michele: I'll miss our talks in Yearbook next year. Carol

Jenny: Remember when you "hit the dirt". J.T.

PO:
These years have been unreal. I'll never forget them. We've been through a lot.
Love,
Cin

CO-ED:
I'm sorry you never had a tangerine trick.
Tweety

Slag:
This is the end. What ever will you do without me?!
Luv,
Cindy

Merry,
Picking on you may be my favorite passtime, but you know I love ya' anyway! The rail is now yours!
Love,
Big Sis

Jodi: I hope to see you at Central. J.T.

P.S.

Grave Digger: 78, 79, 80 Memorial weekends, my old house, Apocolypse Now, and the dark-room, what fun. Can't wait 'til our Senior Party The Good Doctor

Craig: I don't know if this will be right for the time but – 29 forever. Ann

Tom, Craig: "Keep the lighter."

Bette and Bull: Thanks for all the care and understanding, when I needed you, you were there. Now I smile more often. Thanx again. Love, Your READHEAD

B.N.: You're the BEST pres. out Bomb club could ever have.
Vice-pres.
Secretary

"LOS HAS ALL"

Laura, Dick, Brett: Where's the beer? Ann

Grundy: When are you going to get yoru shirt? Dr. Early

Joseph: "Hey dude," some beverages dissolve in sand. Here's to two literary giants. —D.

Disco Don: Love that D.R.E.A.D., no more Dean music in the darkroom. Partier!!!!!!

J.C., K.W., M.H., C.B., N.S., L.J., C.K.: Just remember that Seniors are supposed to be rowdie! Let's forget all bad times and look forward to all the good ones ahead of us, Frity

P.B.: Get wild! D.W.

Liteweight: Swan Valley Condo's are good Hangover Houses, HUH! Dr. Early

Dean, Tim, Don, Joe: You guys mean more to me than you'll ever know. I'll miss you next year. Briz

Briz: We're reserving this spot for you for special thanks. You already know why. Dean, Tim, and Don

Bo Diddley and Fick Fick Fickes:
Keep our tradition on the ski team, and keep passing them 12 oz. weights. State Competitor

Tom, Craig: "There's no hope."
